Insurances

Employee benefits

Sick pay insurance

The employee's continued payment of salary due to illness is covered by a daily sickness benefit insurance policy with a private insurance company. The contributions are shared by the employee and the employer.

Accident insurance

- > SUVA insurance against occupational and non-occupational accidents, fully financed by the employer
- > The supplementary insurance (UVG) covers accident damage in addition to SUVA, in particular:
 - > Continuation of salary, disability, death and medical expenses. The contributions are shared by the employee and the employer.
 - > First class insurance in case of surgery due to accident.

Continued payment of wages in the event of illness/accident

If employees are prevented from working due to illness or accident, they are granted a maximum of 730 days of continued salary payment per case, irrespective of the years of service, based on the last salary earned.

In the first three full months, the continued payment of wages is 100%; from the first day of the following month (4th month), the continued payment of wages is 90% of the last wage earned.

Employee benefits

- > A pension plan managed by Copré collective foundation
- > The savings component is a premium plan and the risk component is a defined benefit plan.
- > The annual salary (13 monthly salaries) is insured, with coordination deduction as of function level 9
- > Risk benefits in % of effective salary:
 - > Widow's, widower's pension 30%,
 - > Disability pension 50%,
 - > Orphan's pension 5% per child.
